

Speculate Vietnam Bombing Halt

NEWSROOM NOTES—There's larceny in every heart, the cynics say, and it's proven by the readiness with which we do unto impersonal corporations that which we would never do to fellow human beings.

Take the matter of insurance fraud, which siphons off unknown amounts of insurers' incomes every year and helps keep everyone's premiums high and growing higher.

Every company suffers from this kind of theft-at-a-distance. But at least one of them — Nationwide — has a thick file of cases in which its insureds returned or refused claims payments they might easily, and sometimes legitimately have pocketed with no one being the wiser.

A conscientious car owner in Massachusetts, for example, was sent a check for $88.38 under her $100 deductible policy after estimated repairs of $188.38 were approved. She didn't consider the case closed, however, until she sent back her personal check for $25—the difference between the estimate and the actual repair cost of $163.88.

A couple in Pennsylvania received a payment of $45 for their son's coat, which had been stolen at school. It was later recovered—and they returned the money.

An Ohio woman reimbursed the company for a claim paid more than 10 years before. She explained that she had been paid $150 for a fire in her car and confessed that she had it deliberately set because of financial difficulties at the time. It had taken her that long to save up enough money—and the and set her nagging conscience at ease.

Another policyholder was paid $10.40 for a radio antenna that had been broken by vandals. When the vandals were later apprehended and ordered by the court to pay for the damages, the policyholder endorsed the check and forwarded it to the company.

"Suckers," someone says. "What multi-million-dollar company would miss such measly amounts?"

Maybe so. Or maybe these people, and others like them, consider their own opinions of themselves more important than what anyone else might think.

And maybe, just maybe, it's this kind of basic integrity, multiplied by the millions and reflected in countless different ways, that has kept the world from going entirely to pot all these many years.

HHH Says Gap Charge Bad for U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey says Republican Richard M. Nixon's security gap charge "has threatened to bring down the whole fragile architecture of peace."

"We are the strongest nation on earth," said Humphrey Friday.

"There is no security gap," he said. "There will be no survival gap—unless we follow Mr. Nixon's advice."

Nixon said Thursday the United States is faced with "a gravely serious security gap" due to the Democrats.

"The present state of our defenses is too close to the peril point, and our future prospects are in some respects downright alarming," said Nixon.

Humphrey said the United States has 150 heavy bombers and 600 tankers compared to the Soviet Union's 150 heavy bombers and 50 dual tanker-bombers.

Humphrey said the United States has 75 nuclear submarines compared to 57 Soviet atomic subs.

Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford said in Washington the Russians have 900 intercontinental ballistic missiles, 180 more than a year ago, but still 154 fewer than the United States has.

Humphrey said of Nixon's charge: "In an effort to catch votes he is playing politics with our national security, undermining the confidence of our allies, among our enemies and undermining our long and patient efforts to bring a rational end to the madness of the strategic arms race."

Nixon had some praise, however, Friday for President Johnson's conduct of the Paris peace talks.

Nixon said Johnson is "driving very hard" for a Vietnam bombing halt. The Republican nominee denied what he called reports that "this spurt of activity is a cynical, last-minute attempt by Johnson to salvage the candidacy" of Humphrey.

But Lawrence F. O'Brien, Democratic national chairman, said Nixon used "artful rhetoric to convey a vicious and false accusation without taking responsibility for his words."

LeMay, meanwhile, said at a news conference, "The communists are using the negotiations as a platform for a lot of propaganda."

"We have to convince North Vietnam that we're going to destroy everything they have and then start doing it," said LeMay at a dinner later.

LeMay's running mate, George C. Wallace, said at a Harrisburg, Pa., fund-raising dinner that Nixon should "get down in the arena with the American people and discuss the issues."

Wallace referred to Nixon's refusal to take part in a three-way televised debate.

Wallace offered to step aside and let Humphrey and Nixon debate alone, as long as Wallace had a half hour of his own right after the debate.

Nixon said the debate would provide Wallace with a ready-made audience. "That would just be murder as far as we're concerned," said Nixon.

All three presidential candidates are scheduled to appear on television interview programs the Sunday before the election. Nixon will be on NBC's "Meet the Press for a half hour at 1 p.m. EST Humphrey and Wallace will be on ABC's "Issues and Answers" for a full hour at the same hour, along with their running mates. ABC said the opponents will not debate.

Teacher Questions Simon

State Sen. Paul Simon, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, left, is being questioned by Richard Gloede, right, superintendent, Creston Elementary Schools, listening in on the conversation is William Callahan, Ottawa, Democratic candidate for state senator in the 36th District, and a teacher in Hinckley-Big Rock High School.

Charles H. Percy:

'Vietnam Involvement Regarded as Tragic By European Allies'

"The universal sentiment among our European allies is that our involvement in Vietnam is a tragedy," declared U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy as he spoke to teachers attending a meeting of the Rock River Division of the Illinois Teachers Association held in Dixon High School.

Illinois' junior senator was given a standing ovation when he entered Lancaster Gymnasium and was repeatedly applauded as he took a dove-like stance on foreign policy.

Referring to the Vietnam War, Percy asserted "it is our grimest mistake."

He charged Vietnam is at the root of youth revolts and heightens the tensions between the races.

"Our young people feel we have let them down and the blacks feel they are being used," the senator declared.

"Our black young people are fighting and dying in Vietnam knowing all the time slums back home where their people live need rebuilding and that little is being done about it" Percy said.

The senator was subbing for U.S. Sen. Everett Dirksen who had been scheduled to address the teachers but was prevented from doing so by an illness.

The junior senator suggested a headline for his appearance here might be "Percy Doubles for Dirksen in Dixon."

After expressing his distress with the war and echoing what he said was another European opinion "that we build our nation at home before we set out to remold Vietnam," Percy launched an attack on Gov. George Wallace.

The senator charged the key to Wallace's foreign policy would be "if things do not go right for us then it's bombs away with Gen. LeMay."

He complained that Wallace hits federal involvement in affairs of the states but "when he was governor of Alabama that state received $2.50 back from the federal government for every $1 Alabamians sent to Washington."

"He may not like federal involvement but he got into the federal treasury with both hands" Percy reported.

The senator commented on Wallace's concern over law and order, and then quoted FBI statistics which report the murder rate in that state is highest in the nation and that cases of aggravated assault in Alabama are almost twice the national average.

"You may want a change," Percy conceded, "but what kind of change do you want?" he asked of any who might support Wallace's candidacy.

He counseled that any protest could better be made through the two-party system.

Percy said the polls and all other indications point to a Nixon victory and said he believed

U.S. Awaits Hanoi Reply To Proposal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Speculation about an agreement on a bombing halt in Vietnam to an agreement on how

A recent U.S. peace initiative had linked a total halt in American air attacks on North Vietnam to an agreement on how South Vietnam should be represented at the bargaining table, according to reports of allied diplomats. But, U.S. officials were reported still awaiting Hanoi's reply to the bombing halt proposal and Wednesday's 27th session of the peace talks in Paris ended without any visible advance toward a solution.

President Johnson at a news conference Thursday said: "We want peace very much," but there was no breakthrough toward a settlement yet. He recalled a statement by press secretary George Christian on Oct. 17 that "there has been no basic change in the situation, no breakthrough," and said that was still correct.

On the battlefield, meanwhile, the U.S. Command said 100 American soldiers were killed last week—the lowest number in 14 months. Enemy and South Vietnamese casualties also dropped, reflecting a fighting lull that has continued for more than three weeks.

Despite a topsy-turvy landing that had the spacecraft drifting upside down before recovery forces could locate it, Apollo 7—"the magnificent flying machine"—completed its 11-day mission Tuesday with "101 per cent" success.

The three astronauts, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham, splashed into the sea just five miles from the aircraft carrier Essex, climaxing a space adventure that gave America dead aim on the moon. A quick physical check of the spacemen showed they felt fine and were in good spirits. They were all smiles when they received a telephone call from President Johnson.

Flight officials were elated with the results. The Apollo program manager, Air Force Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, said: "Apollo 7 goes into my book as a perfect mission. We accomplished 101 per cent of our objectives. We did everything we set out to do and added a few things as we went along."

It was a particularly proud mission for those who worked so hard to bounce back from the tragedy of the fire aboard the Apollo 1 spaceship nearly two years ago. The three astronauts trapped inside were killed and America's man-in-space program suffered a severe setback. But, 21 months and $410 million later, the United States was on the doorstep to the moon.

One week. That's virtually all the time left for the presidential campaign to convince the voters to mark their name—just one—on that Election Day ballot. And they are going to make the most of that time.

Preston Hits Criticism of His Record

Coroner Robert Preston defending his record Friday night at the Republican-Democratic debate produced more heat than the confrontation of spokesmen of the two parties.

The debate was held in the First Baptist Church sponsored by the Interfaith Biracial Council.

Democratic County chairman Donald F. Burke concluded his formal remarks with reference to Preston filing only four reports to the County Board of Supervisors during his 20 years in office whereas state law calls for semi-annual reports to be submitted.

The coroner who is the Republican incumbent for the office demanded that Burke's statements "be stricken from the records."

Mary Jane Larson moderator of the debate asked Preston to drop the matter because it had been announced that candidates would not take part in the debate.

Preston persisted to press his point about "dirty politics" being the motivating factor in bringing up the matter of his not filing reports until Winston McReynolds president of the council prevailed upon him to make no further comments.

The coroner declared he could "bring up dirt too, but would not do so just to win an election."

Later in the question and answer period, William Callahan, Democratic candidate for state senator from the 35th District got up to ask a question about the Republican stand on the race question and was not challenged and his query was answered.

Burke and his verbal opponent, Myron Olson, committeeman in Dixon's Third Precinct, who stood in for Monroe McDowell, both brought up the issue of "crime in the streets," but assessed different causes and disagreed on solutions to the problem.

Burke spoke first and ticked off problems facing the nation such as decay of cities, civil liberties, racial revolt, nuclear control, poverty, rebellion of youth and Vietnam, but directed most of remarks toward the causes of crimes by youths.

The Democratic county chairman reported incidents of crime are highest among 15- to 21-year-olds and declared this is due to poverty, lack of education and the population explosion.

Burke said, "the average rioter is 17 years old, fatherless, uneducated and unemployed and has no hope."

"Employers don't want him; the Army rejects him, and the schools don't know what to do with him."

He declared crime in the streets can best be solved by instituting programs to deal with its causes.

Burke claimed the Democratic administration has attacked this problem in the Law Enforcement Act of 1965 which has provided, he said "$9 million for 314 projects in the 50 states."

Pointing also to the Omnibus Crime Control Law of 1968, Burke asserted it can help communities and non-profit agencies to plan for ways to combat the causes of crimes and to upgrade the effectiveness of local police.

Olson commented he was not a walking encyclopedia of facts, but that he had been in politics since 1950 and he had certain observations to make.

Illinois under the present administration has the highest violent crime rate of any state in the union.

"Whatever causes you assess for this," Olson said, "the fact remains we need different interpretations of the law than we are now getting in the courts."

Turning to Vietnam, the Republican precinct committeeman said, "somehow since 1960 we have drifted deeply into a war in Southeast Asia which involves a half million fighting men from the United States."

He charged that Democratic voices on all sides say we cannot win this war, and the inability to cope with the complicated problem among other things has brought a mood for a desire for a change.

Olson declared whatever the Democrats say, they simply have not controlled crime in the streets.

Other disabilities Olson saddled the Democratic administration with were not controlling inflation which has brought about the 10 per cent surtax and is taking dollars from the pockets of every citizen.

"People are being robbed by the millions of dollars," Olson declared, "by this inflation which is eating away at the purchasing power of their money."

Turning to civil rights, Olson asserted "everyone should be rewarded for his efforts and held accountable for his acts."

"You just cannot legislate love; that must come from the heart," he observed.

He added a footnote to that observation to say, "for some in the adult generation it is too late for love to eradicate prejudice. The hope is that children may be raised who are free from racial prejudice."

Olson said "Richard Nixon offers the Negro not a handout but a piece of the action."

Miss Pierce, J. Walker Repeat Nuptial Vows

PAW PAW — Miss Regina Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance Pierce, became the bride of James Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clell Walker, Sandwich, in a double-ring wedding performed Oct. 18 in the United Methodist Church, by Rev. Paul Milbrandt.

An arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the church altar for the 8 p.m. ceremony, and Mrs. Fred Ross was the nuptial organist.

White bonded knit interwoven with threads of silver fashioned the bride's sleeveless sheath which featured a wedding ring collar and accents of silver, and her bridal veil of illusion tiers was enhanced with tulle roses.

Miss Janice Pierce, who attended her sister as maid of honor, was attired in an A-line skimmer of pink knit with lacey see-through sleeves and silver accents, and her headdress was of pink net. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses and pink carnations. Blue accessories complemented Mrs. Pierce's blue-print frock and matching hat, and the bridegroom's mother chose a peacock blue dress with winter white hat and accessories. Pink roses formed their shoulder corsages.

Attending Mr. Walker as best man was his cousin, Ronnie Adrian, Somonauk; and ushers were Paul Adrian, Somonauk, also a cousin of the bridegroom, and John Baie, Waterman, brother-in-law of the bride.

The fellowship hall of the church was the setting for the reception which followed the wedding ceremony. Decorations for the refreshment table carried out the pink and white color theme. Punch and coffee were served by Miss Ligne Hanson and Mrs. Joe Weinzierl Jr. The cake was cut by Mrs. Donald Pierce and Mrs. Walter Erbes, Mrs. Carl Kindelberger and Mrs. Vernon Merriman assisted with the serving.

Miss Patricia Todd registered the wedding guests who came from Ottawa, Plano, Sandwich, Sublette, Lee, Somonauk and the Paw Paw area.

Thousands Pour Into London To Demonstrate

LONDON (AP) — Thousands of demonstrators poured into London today for a massive protest Sunday against the U.S. role in the Vietnam war.

Police mounted guard over the Houses of Parliament, government buildings, railroad stations and the U.S. Embassy, as trains and buses brought thousands of war protesters.

About 50,000 persons are expected to participate in what has been billed as the biggest "anti" rally ever staged in London.

Political and church leaders appealed for calm. The archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, said:

"What a terrible setback it will be if Sunday's demonstration degenerates into violence."

Wallace Jibes Opponents

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — George C. Wallace jibed his presidential opponents in a relaxed, low-key speech Friday night, sharpening his attack on Richard M. Nixon for refusing to debate and saying that his Democratic opponent, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is out of the running.

Wallace's spirits were visibly buoyant as he neared the end of what he considers one of his most successful weeks of campaigning. His comments drew cheers and laughter from 400 supporters who paid $25 a plate.

He speaks today at Terre Haute, Ind., and Cincinnati, Ohio, before returning to Montgomery, Ala., for a day of rest Sunday.

Wallace said the pollsters now were hedging their reports that he has support of about 20 percent of the electorate.

"Now they're writing, 'this election is hard to gauge,'" Wallace said. "They're laying the predicate for being wrong."

Concerning the television debate proposal, Wallace said he had withdrawn as a potential participant not only to strip away Nixon's stated reason for refusing but also because he felt he would be the beneficiary of a Nixon-Humphrey confrontation.

"I thought that if both of them got to telling on each other, it would help us," Wallace said.

Wallace cited an article written by Nixon in 1964 which said television debates "contribute significantly to... the public interest."

He had hoped, Wallace said, that Nixon would "get down in the arena with the American people and discuss the issues."

The speech jumped from one topic to another and back again, but the audience plainly enjoyed it.

At one point, Wallace apologized for his rambling and said: "It's always difficult for me to talk to an orderly crowd. I don't know how to react. I have to talk in a calm deliberate voice; I can't shout."

Earlier Friday, Wallace spoke to about 4,000 persons at Trenton, N.J., and 2,500 at Hershey, Pa., and was heckled by small but noisy groups in both cities.

But what a stunning proof of persuasion and power it will be if the demonstration remains peaceful.

Prospects of that were far from good. About 1,000 students took over the London School of Economics Thursday and said it would be used as a "sanctuary" for demonstrators needing rest or medical attention. Eight doctors were on call there.

A North Vietnamese flag fluttered from the fourth floor of the occupied school, where the late President John F. Kennedy once studied.

A force of 7,000 police was on duty in the capital, with orders to show "utmost patience" with the demonstrators. Another 7,000 were held in reserve.

In London's West End an army of private security officers was mustered to keep watch over 60 buildings in the financial center that could become targets of protest.

These included American business offices, government ministries, foreign embassies, BBC and commercial television studios and Fleet Street newspaper buildings.

Apart from the U.S. Embassy in Grosvenor Square—which "Maoist" marchers say they intend to storm—a special guard was kept on offices of the high commissions of Australia and New Zealand. Both these Commonwealth countries have sent troops to fight in Vietnam.

De Gaulle To Talk With Sunay

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Seeking to build French influence in the Middle East, President Charles de Gaulle begins talks today with President Cevdet Sunay.

The 77-year-old French chief of state, who arrived Friday for a five-day state visit, urged this key nation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to join France in breaking ties with power blocs that "divide Europe."

"In a world situation as it is now changing, the respective situations of Turkey and France offer them the best reason to bring their policies together," De Gaulle said at a dinner Friday night.

Earlier he told an airport crowd that "understanding Turkey's wish for independence and importance in a key area of the world, we are ready to bring our policy closer to Turkey."

The two statements were seen as evidence of the independent role De Gaulle has been trying to steer with the Moslem countries of the Middle East since the Arab-Israeli war on June 1967. They coincide with rising anti-Americanism in Turkey, although the government remains pro-United States and pro-NATO.

Many Turks are disappointed by what they consider the favoring of Greece by the United States in the drawout Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus.

De Gaulle had planned to try to convince the Turks to follow France's lead and leave the military command of NATO, but informants said he changed his mind after the invasion of Czechoslovakia and the Soviet fleet buildup in the Mediterranean.

The passage of Soviet ships through Turkish straits to the Mediterranean in recent months has underscored the country's strategic importance.

But visits by Soviet leaders and closer economic ties between the two bordering countries indicate that the traditional animosity between them is subsiding.

This increasing friendship with the Soviets and riots that broke out last summer when the U.S. 6th Fleet visited Turkey indicate De Gaulle may find fertile ground for his efforts.

Archbishop Cushing To Resign

BOSTON (UPI) — Cardinal Richard J. Cushing rolled his blue but tired eyes, and in the raspy voice that seems like a perpetual incantation announced he would resign as Archbishop of Boston.

A storm had been unleashed by the elderly prelate's defense of the marriage of Jacqueline Kennedy to Greek multimillionaire Aristotle Onassis. By marrying a divorced man, Mrs. Kennedy incurred the displeasure of the Roman Catholic Church—except Cushing.

Cushing, long a confidant of the Kennedys and 22 years archbishop of one of the largest Catholic archdioceses in the United States, knew well in advance the widow of the late president would marry Onassis, one of the world's wealthiest men.

Unable, and perhaps unwilling to stop it, the cardinal gave the union his unofficial blessing.

Gutter Mail

On Friday, Cushing, for days deluged by what he called "gutter" mail from persons who condemned his defense of Mrs. Onassis, announced he would resign at the end of this year. He had been planning retirement at age 75—in two years.

A high-level vatican source said Friday night Pope Paul VI held Cushing "in high esteem" and probably would turn down any resignation.

The controversy which has swirled around Cushing originated with a speech before the Caritas Guild Tuesday. He then made an emotional plea for charity for the former First Lady, for understanding and compassion.

He rejected the notion Jacqueline Kennedy was a "public sinner" or excommunicated from the church because of her marriage.

"Why can't she marry whoever she wants to marry?" the cardinal said.

The storm broke. Some Catholics were infuriated. A member of the church is not permitted to marry a divorced person without incurring severe penalties.

Blames Press

The cardinal, after several days of reflection and a barrage of criticism, called his speech "my offhand remarks" and he charged the press with distorting the meaning of his defense.

"I honestly told Jackie—it's your life, not my life. You can marry anyone you want, but not within the Catholic Church," the archbishop said.

Cushing explained to Mrs. Kennedy that if Onassis' first marriage were annulled and the terms of the annulment were acceptable to the Catholic Church, the marriage would be proper and legal theologically. Otherwise, she would be denied the sacraments.

"I told all this to Jacqueline," the cardinal said. "but she had her mind all made up."

"When her mind was settled, I could do nothing about changing her mind—at least I could be kind to her, charitable to her, nice to her," Cushing said.

Soviet Union Launches Man Into Space

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a man into space, its first manned shot in more than a year, TASS news agency announced.

The ship was labeled Soyuz 3 and carried one man, Col. Georgy Beregovoi, TASS said. It was his first trip into orbit.

TASS said Beregovoi reported that he "feels well" and all systems aboard the craft are functioning normally.

The last Soviet manned space shot ended in tragedy. Cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov was killed when Soyuz 1 crashed to earth in April 1967.

The last successful manned effort was Alexei Leonov's historic walk in space in March 1965.

There had been indications that the Soviets would concentrate on unmanned experiments, and cosmonauts traveling abroad had not spoken of plans to send a man in orbit. "Soviet pilot-cosmonaut, hero of the Soviet Union and merited test pilot."

The ship was launched at 11:34 a.m. Moscow time, Tass said, by a "powerful rocket-booster." The Soviet news agency reported Beregovoi has "started fulfilling the program of the flight," but gave no details on what maneuvers or experiments were planned.

The timing of the launch indicated it was made to coincide with the Oct. 28 anniversary of the Communist youth organization Komsomol and the 51st birthday of the Soviet state Nov. 7.

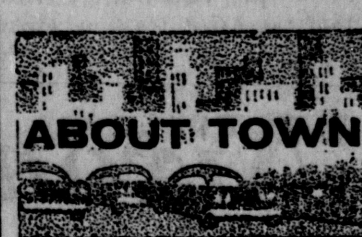

Each orbit around the earth takes 88.6 minutes, Tass said.

Vietnam...

the mood for change comes, principally, from the fact that "President Johnson has not solved a sufficient number of the nation's problems to warrant re-election."

"Hubert Humphrey is an honorable and decent man," Percy observed, declared his problem is that "he is not able to extricate himself from those policies of the Johnson administration which he defended over the years."

Atty. Gen. William G. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, addressed the teachers Friday, as well as State Sen. Paul Simon, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Simon's opponent, Robert Dwyer, was scheduled to address the meeting but did not appear.

White House Aspirant Welcomes Democrat

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President and Mrs. Johnson's two-day-old granddaughter "doing beautifully" at Bethesda Naval Hospital already has been claimed by politics.

Among the many messages wellwishers sent the Johnsons' elder daughter Lynda Bird Robb was one from White House aspirant Hubert H. Humphrey.

"Hooray" it said. "Another Democrat enters the world. We send our deepest love."

The proud grandfather himself seemed to imply he foresaw a role in the public spotlight for the seven-and-a-half pound infant.

"She has black hair and apparently is healthy and vociferous" Johnson said in announcing her birth early Friday. "She seems to know she is here and has work cut out for her because she has already expressed herself."

Doctors at the hospital in nearby Bethesda Md. reported mother and child were doing fine. They are expected to go home to the White House sometime between Tuesday and Thursday.

Lynda and the baby's father Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb now serving in Da Nang Vietnam have decided on a name but have not yet made it public.

The First Lady baptized Claudia Alta eventually adjusted to the not particularly welcome nickname of Lady Bird gave an emphatic "no" when asked if Bird would be part of her first granddaughter's name.

The White House planned to make public later today official photographs of the new baby.

Robb also will get his first look at his daughter's picture this weekend when Gen. Lewis Walt assistant Marine Corps commandant drops them off at Da Nang while on a special mission in the area.

Lynda 24 has been kept company at the hospital by her sister Luci Nugent 21.

Nixon's Coattails
Not Long Enough

By HENRY J. TAYLOR
While Republican insiders find Richard M. Nixon doing fine in an amazing number of states, they are not finding the equivalent carry-through for co-running congressional candidates.
This is the hidden and disturbing fly in the G.O.P. ointment at the moment.
The importance is twofold: first, the need for a Republican Congress in the event that George C. Wallace should somehow throw the election into the House; second, because an elected Nixon would be enormously aided by a Republican majority in Congress.
Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's first term identifies the problem at the Congressional level.
He won the presidency by incomparably the largest vote that had ever been cast for any president, defeated Adlai E. Stevenson by the tremendous margin of 6.6 million and got 442 votes in the Electoral College. (The votes cast for his re-election were given larger, his margin over Mr. Stevenson the second time grew to 9.2 million and he got 457 electoral votes.)
Yet on the day Gen. Eisenhower was inaugurated - Jan. 20, 1953 - the votes for co-running congressional candidates had given his party only three more than a bare majority in the House and a majority of only one in the Senate. Actually, there was not one Republican senator who had ever served with a Republican president, including Sen. Robert A. Taft, and only 15 Republican congressmen who ever had.
Gen. Eisenhower got 82 electoral votes in seven states represented in the House by 57 Democrats, not one of whom was defeated. He won five so-called solid South states and polled there 49 per cent of the major party vote, outrunning the Republican party vote by a phenomenal 23 1/2 per cent.
Nearly one-third more Southerners voted for the change at the presidential level. Florida and Texas, for example, gave the new Republican president not one Republican congressman.
When Mr. Nixon ran in 1960 the Republicans had only 17 governorships and both houses of the legislature in only six states. But the 1964 Republican victory was a victory in depth. Today the G.O.P. has more than half the governorships: 26,

These represent states with 58 per cent of the nation's population and 302 Electoral College votes. (Only 270 are needed to elect Mr. Nixon President). The Republicans gained three Senate seats, 47 House seats and 10 governorships.
In all this Mr. Nixon helped mightily. A full 55 of the 32 Congressmen Mr. Nixon campaigned for in 1966 were elected, along with 10 of 13 Senators and 10 of 12 governors.
But that's the 1968 rub.
Republican insiders are confident of a November gain of at least five more G.O.P. governorships. They foresee these in Democratic-split Indiana; Illinois, where a strong Republican opposes new Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro; Iowa, Vermont and New Hampshire, where popular Democratic governors have stepped aside.
They see possible victory in four more: Republican Rep. Arch A. Moore's West Virginia gubernatorial race, and equally favored candidates' runs in Delaware, Kansas and North Dakota. Moreover, as for holding present G.O.P. governorships, the Republican insiders are confident in four states which have appeared tough for the G.O.P. to hold: Arkansas, Montana, Washington and Wisconsin.
Mr. Nixon's warning within the party against "the Republicans almost cannibalistic urge to destroy and consume one another when they disagree" has been taken to heart by Republican leaders this time.
But in the House races the root problem is quite different. Lifting the veil somewhat, several party informants have issued careful analyses. For example, Mr. I. Lee Potter, executive director of the Republican Convention Committee, listed on Oct. 10 such specifics as the estimated gain of four Virginia congressmen and Minority Leader Gerald Ford has since tried to be similarly specific.
Behind the scenes, however, the G.O.P. problem at the congressional level is that the 1966 election swept out so many marginal, or "soft," Democratic seats among the 47 that the Republicans won that a disproportionate number of those remaining to be won in 1968 are well-entrenched and hardly available.
Beyond this hidden problem, political history offers much to support the cautious belief that chickens should not be counted before they are hatched, just as it also warns about promising two chickens in every pot.

Report of High Pay Fed Jobs

(The following article was written by Walter Trohan and published in the Chicago Tribune.)
WASHINGTON—From time to time this column has reported on the number of federal jobs paying more than $10,000 a year. was considered executive pay. The reports were begun long ago, when $10,000 a year was considered executive pay.
Now comes a definitive study by Martin A. Larson, a former professor at Michigan State University and the University of Idaho, who left teaching for private business in Detroit. He has been writing in retirement since 1950, and has just published "The Great Tax Fraud" (Devlin Adair, $5.95).
The book could spark a revolution at the polls, if widely read. But our chief concern is with federal pay. Larson demonstrates that the 2,287,500 permanent employees of the federal government will draw more than 21 billion dollars in pay during current fiscal year, which ends next June 30.
This is an average of $9,310 a year and takes into account the lower-paid federal employees, such as charwomen, clerks, and typists. If the cost of disability and retirement appropriations is taken into account, the average pay rises from $9,310 to $10,706 a year. The average is as high as the pay of most skilled workers in private industry.
There is one federal worker to every 69 persons in the country. This does not include the military or those receiving federal subsidy or benefit checks.
Larson finds that nearly 100,000 federal employees receive salaries and fringe benefits exceeding $20,000 a year. That is a proportion of one highly paid executive to every 26 federal workers — a far higher proportion than that in private industry.
Larson finds it is almost impossible to get rid of a federal bureaucrat or reduce his income and put him to useful work. He finds no one can be as vicious or vengeful as a government parasite threatened with loss of sinecure.
"The bureaucrat is a cog in a great machine," Larson writes. "He must be devoid of originality or creativity. He takes orders from his superiors and relays them to his inferiors. With him, mediocrity is a prime asset, for he advances in the ranks thru obedience and conformity.
"His soon loses every vestige of ethical principle, since this would be a deterrent to promotion. He is an animated lump of clay. The less observant he is of present evil, the better his chances for preferment. The slightest criticism of the system of which he is a cog or of the superiors who control his destiny would be fatal. In short, the bureaucrat is a moral and intellectual degenerate, the most contemptible creature that crawls between earth and sky."

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I came across something which describes how I feel to the nth degree. I hope you will print it because it is the story of my life — mine and a million other teen-age girls. Here it is:
"Whoever started that fairy-tale that teen-age years are the happiest must have been out of his head.
"I hope thousands of teen-age boys see this because they are the main reason for the misery of so many teen-age girls. At every party, whether it's a school hop, or a get-together at somebody's house, or a church mixer, you always see a group of girls standing in a circle. They are laughing and talking and at a glance you think they are having a wonderful time.
"The truth is they are having a lousy time and they wish they had stayed home. These girls stick together and try to look gay, but they are miserable and depressed because they know they will stand there all evening and no boy will ask them to dance.
"Ally they boys run after three or four of the prettiest and most popular girls. The plainer girls, like me, never get a tumble. It's humiliating and heartbreaking.
"Who doesn't someone tell high school boys to be more considerate. So what if a girl is not a great dancer or a living doll? She may have a lot on the ball if only a guy would give her a chance. One thing is certain. She'll appreciate you a lot more than the chick who is run ragged by every fellow in the place."
Isn't that a wonderful article, Ann? I hope you agree and print it.—SEEING MYSELF
Dear Seeing: Yes, it's very good. I thought so when I published it in my column about five years ago.
Where did you say you saw it? Clue me. We have lawyers who know how to deal with publications that use copyrighted material without permission.
Dear Miss Landers: Our daughter plans to be married in June, following her graduation from college. Brenda has been active in the church on campus. She wants to be married there. She was also active in our family church but has gotten away from it since she went away to school.
We have no objection to her choice, but it means her grandparents, aunts and uncles and our older friends will have quite a distance to travel and will probably not make the trip. Also, arranging a reception in a strange city will be a lot of extra work for me.
Will you give us an outsider's opinion?—MRS. BRP OF BOSTON
Dear Mrs.: The bride's decision should be final. It would have been generous had she considered your wishes, but since she did not, go along with her preference and keep all the plans very simple. And don't be bashful about asking her to handle some of the arrangements.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Polly's Pointers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Every few months a group of us girls has what we call "A Trade." We save up those things we no longer use and want to discard, take them to one person's house at a certain time and set them all out. Everyone takes what she wants. No money is ever exchanged. This is such a good way to get rid of no-longer-needed articles which someone else might like or need. When everyone has chosen all she wants, the rest is donated to some needy family or charity. Everyone goes home happy with someone else's "white elephant," knowing she has made someone else happy. We find this especially good for children's clothing. As you well know, they grow out of things so fast and often long before they are worn out. — JUDY
Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — The salt shaker to my pottery dishes stayed moist until I put rice in it. However, I have the same problem with the pepper shaker and am unable to do anything about it. The pepper becomes moist, clings to the sides of the shaker and even molds. Rice does not work with it. I wonder if other pottery owners have had the same problem? If so, I would appreciate any suggestions on how to cope with it. — VIRGINIA
DEAR POLLY — Many times in the past I have locked myself out of the house by leaving the key inside and slamming the door. I have a tip that solved the problem. I wear a thin, gold chain around my neck. Instead of a pendant on it, I have a golden key to my front door. It is always there in case I forget and lock myself out. This key is a conversation piece and I tell some that it is the key to my heart but it is really just the one to my front door. — MRS. G. P.
DEAR GIRLS — This would be a great idea for the children. It could hang down inside their clothes, out of sight and not necessarily of gold. Older girls could have such a key gold or silver-plated and attached to their charm bracelets.—POLLY

The Doctor Says

By W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Now that vacation is over for most of us, the summer tan, won with such great effort, is beginning to fade. Would you rather bid it a fond adieu, apply a little sun tan lotion or buy a sun lamp? If you buy the lamp you should remember that, although it can tan you quicker than natural sunbathing, it can also burn you quickly.
The lighters you are, the more easily you will burn. How long it will take to get a bad burn will depend on the strength of the lamp, its distance from your skin and whether it is moved from time to time to cover different areas.
While five minutes is the most a light-complexioned person should expose his skin to the sun at first, the initial period under the sun lamp must usually be much shorter, with a small daily increase in the exposure time. Most sun lamps come with a booklet of instructions. You should study these and follow them closely.
Accumulated evidence shows that from the standpoint of health alone there is no need to expose yourself to sunshine or a sun lamp. It is true such exposure will build up your supply of vitamin D, but most of us get all we need in our diet. The only other benefit from sunbathing is cosmetic. Too much tanning will thicken your skin and accelerate wrinkling. Furthermore, government figures indicate that sun lamps are responsible for about 10,000 disabling injuries each year. These include electric shock, contact burns and severe sunburn.
If you want to buy a sun lamp, handle it with care. Always wear sun-lamp goggles while you are under it. Use a timer that will shut the lamp off after a prescribed period. Don't

Clippers Breeze Past Mount Carroll 42-20

By BOB CRUSE

AMBOY—A fair breeze blew on the Amboy Clipper ship, here, Friday, as the hometown Clippers sailed to a 42-20 homecoming victory over the Mount Carroll Hawks in North Blackhawk Conference action.

It was the Clippers' second win of the season, their first win coming at the expense of Prophetstown last week.

The entire first period was a defensive battle as the Clippers earned the lone first down from scrimmage in the stanza. As the period ended, Mount Carroll had the ball on fourth down on their own five-yard line.

To begin the second quarter Mount Carroll punted and following a six-yard runback by Gary Kreiser, the Clippers took the over on the Mount Carroll 29-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, halfback Ken Jones went through the Hawks' line on a crossbuck and raced into the end zone for the first score of the game. Jim Decker kicked the extra point giving the Clippers a 7-0 lead. Then, with 8:01 remaining in the stanza, halfback Gary Kreiser sprinted 33 yards off tackle for the Clippers' second touchdown. Decker again kicked the extra point. Following the Clippers' first sustained drive of the night, fullback Marvin Spears scored their third touchdown on a four-yard dive play. Decker's extra point gave the Clippers a 21-0 advantage. On the kickoff, Mount Carroll's Dennis Dyson took the ball on the 15 yard line and sprinted 85 yards for the Hawks' first touchdown of the contest. The extra point was good making the score 21-7. During the entire first half, the Hawks were unable to earn a first down from scrimmage.

On the first series of downs in the second half, Mount Carroll earned their first first-down of the game. With 1:26 remaining in the third stanza, the Hawks scored their second touchdown when Terry Bausman recovered an Amboy fumble and raced 12 yards into the end zone. John Blackburn blocked the extra point attempt making the score 21-13. Neither team was able to score for the rest of the period.

With 9:46 left in the final stanza, sophomore halfback, Bob Bieser raced off tackle for 33 yards and the fourth Amboy touchdown. Decker again kicked the extra point, making the score 28-13. With 7:32 remaining in the contest, sophomore quarterback Mark Smith threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to end Dean Elliott. Decker's extra point was good. The Hawks were then finally able to muster a drive and score on a three-yard sweep by Vern Boessner. The extra point was good making the score 35-20.

Amboy then took the kick and marched down the field and with 26 seconds remaining on the clock, Elliott scored the Clippers' final touchdown on a 26-yard double reverse play. Decker kicked his sixth extra point of the evening to make the final score 42-20.

It was Mount Carroll's seventh loss of the season and their fifth conference loss of the year. The Clippers now have a 2-4 record with a 2-3 record in conference play. The win moved the Clippers to fifth place in the North Blackhawk Conference standings.

Next week Amboy travels to Polo for their last conference game of the season while Mount Carroll ends their season at Prophetstown.

Tiskilwa scored in each period as they notched their fourth win of the season against two setbacks while the Bulldogs are winless in seven outings.

Friel was the star for the hometowners as he scored four touchdowns while gaining 261 yards for the night, as the Tiskilwa star scored on runs of 19, 65, 62 and 75 yards.

Dennis Anderson and Marine scored the Ohio touchdowns, as Anderson went 61 yards on a counter-play off tackle for the first Bulldog TD of the night while Marine caught a 22-yard scoring pass for the second score of the game for the visitors. Both runs for points after touchdowns were good by the Bulldogs.

Ohio was outgained in both the passing and rushing yardage statistics by the Tiskilwa team, as Tiskilwa racked up 391 yards rushing and 43 pass for a total offense of 434 yards compared to Ohio's 87 yards rushing and 94 yards passing.

FORRESTON-Byron

FORRESTON — The Byron Tigers scored touchdowns in each of the first three periods of play here Thursday night, as they routed the Forreston Cardinals by the final score of 35-7.

Byron scored in the opening period on a 12-yard run by John Fruin with a Rick Capp pass to Dave Ferb accounting for the point-after. The visitors tallied in the second period on a 12-yarder by Dale Dieckbernd with the same runner scoring the point after touchdown.

Score at the intermission was Byron 14, Forreston 0.

Rick Capp opened the third-period scoring for Byron by racing 12 yards around end on a quarterback keeper to add still another six-pointer to the Tiger total and then flipped a short pass to John Fruin for the point-after, making the score 21-0 at the end of three periods of play.

The hometown Cardinals finally got on the scoreboard early in the final period of play, as a Denny Siller pass to Gary Ludwig covered 30 yards for a touchdown. Brad DeWall added the PAT on a short line buck and the score was 21-7 Byron.

Capp took the ball over for Byron on a keeper from two yards away later in the period, as the Tigers maintained their 21-point advantage by adding the point-after on a line plunge. A Capp to Dieckbernd pass covering 30 yards accounted for the final touchdown of the night in the waning stages of the contest, with Gordy Ball adding the point-after.

Walnut Smashes Toulon Trojans

WALNUT — Homecoming was a huge success here Friday night as the local Blue Raiders literally pounded Toulon into the ground 54-6 in a South Blackhawk Conference contest. The win was Walnut's sixth in seven outings, good enough for second spot in the league, while the loss was Toulon's fifth in seven contests. They have won one and tied one and are currently last in the conference.

Mark Lubbs and Dale Clary accounted for four and three touchdowns respectively for Walnut, while the Raiders' only other six-pointer was scored by Doug Broers on a pass from Rick Andersen. John Von Holten contributed five points to the winning effort, three on extra point kicks and the other two on a safety. Les Saal accounted for the other Walnut point when he gathered in a pass from Dave Hill on an extra point play.

The Blue Raiders garnered 14 points in the first period, their initial touchdown came on a pass play from Andersen to Clary that covered 53 yards. Saal scored the PAT.

Lubbs added the second TD of the period when he romped 43 yards. Von Holten tied the PAT. Lubbs duplicated his first scoring jaunt early in the second quarter, however, this time the extra point attempt failed. Other touchdowns in this period were by Broers on a pass from Andersen, a play that covered 40 yards; Clary on a 23 yard pass from Andersen, and then the safety scored by Von Holten on a blocked kick. All three PAT attempts failed.

Each team scored a touchdown in the third period. Walnut's came on a three-yard plunge by Lubbs, with Von Holten scoring the extra point, while Toulon's was on a two-yard quarterback sneak by Webster. This PAT attempt failed.

Lubbs and Clary each accounted for a touchdown in the final period, Lubbs' came on a 41-yard run while Clary's was on a 43-yard jaunt. Von Holten made good on one of these extra point tries, while the other missed the mark, making the final score Walnut 54, Toulon 6.

Eagles, Aces Lose Tilts

The Ashton Aces and the Franklin Center Eagles both lost their Route 72 Conference contests Friday night, as the Eagles fell to Milledgeville 39-6, while Ashton took it on the nose from Leaf River 20-12.

Milledgeville scored in every period except the first as they kept their conference hopes alive by downing the winless Eagles of Coach Mel Barron. Franklin scored their lone TD on a 31-yard run by Hann.

Ashton tallied their two TDs in the final period on a Phillips to Kirchhofer pass and an Ebert to Foster pass play.

Both extra points by the Aces were short on running attempts at the point after.

Quarterback Keeper
Jeff Shoaf (13), who played the lions share of the Dixon-Kewanee contest. Here Shoaf is pictured as he is about to be tackled by an unidentified tackler after picking up some valuable yardage in one of the Dukes scoring drives. Dixon won their final NCIC contest of the season 46-19 to close out their home gridiron season.

Mendota Stuns Rockets 34-20

ROCK FALLS — The Mendota Trojans ruined what the Rock Falls Rockets had hoped to be an outstanding football year here Friday night, as they defeated the hometown Rockets 34-20 in an NCIC outing for both squads.

The Mendota Trojans wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard, as with 10 minutes of playing time remaining in the first period Mike Yaeger tossed a 57-yard pass to end John Whitmore for a TD. Don Hamel bootled the point-after between the uprights and the score was 7-0. The Trojans were not through scoring in the initial period, however, as John McLaughlin skirted the left end of the hometown boys for a second six-pointer in the period. Hamel's kick for the extra point was good, and the score at the end of the first period was 14-0.

Jim Leach finally got the Rockets on the scoreboard in the second quarter of action, as he bounced off tackle for four yards and a score. The point-after attempt by Balsley was wide and the score was 14-6.

The Newmanites scored in every quarter to notch their sixth straight Illowa Conference win this season, while Fulton slipped to 2-4 in loop play.

Mike Papocchia opened the Comet scoring with a 30-yard scamper around end on a quarterback keeper. The point after was short, making the score 6-0 Newman at the quarter. Greg Thome tallied the second Newman touchdown on a two-yard sprint up the middle in the second quarter. The point after was good, and Newman led 13-0.

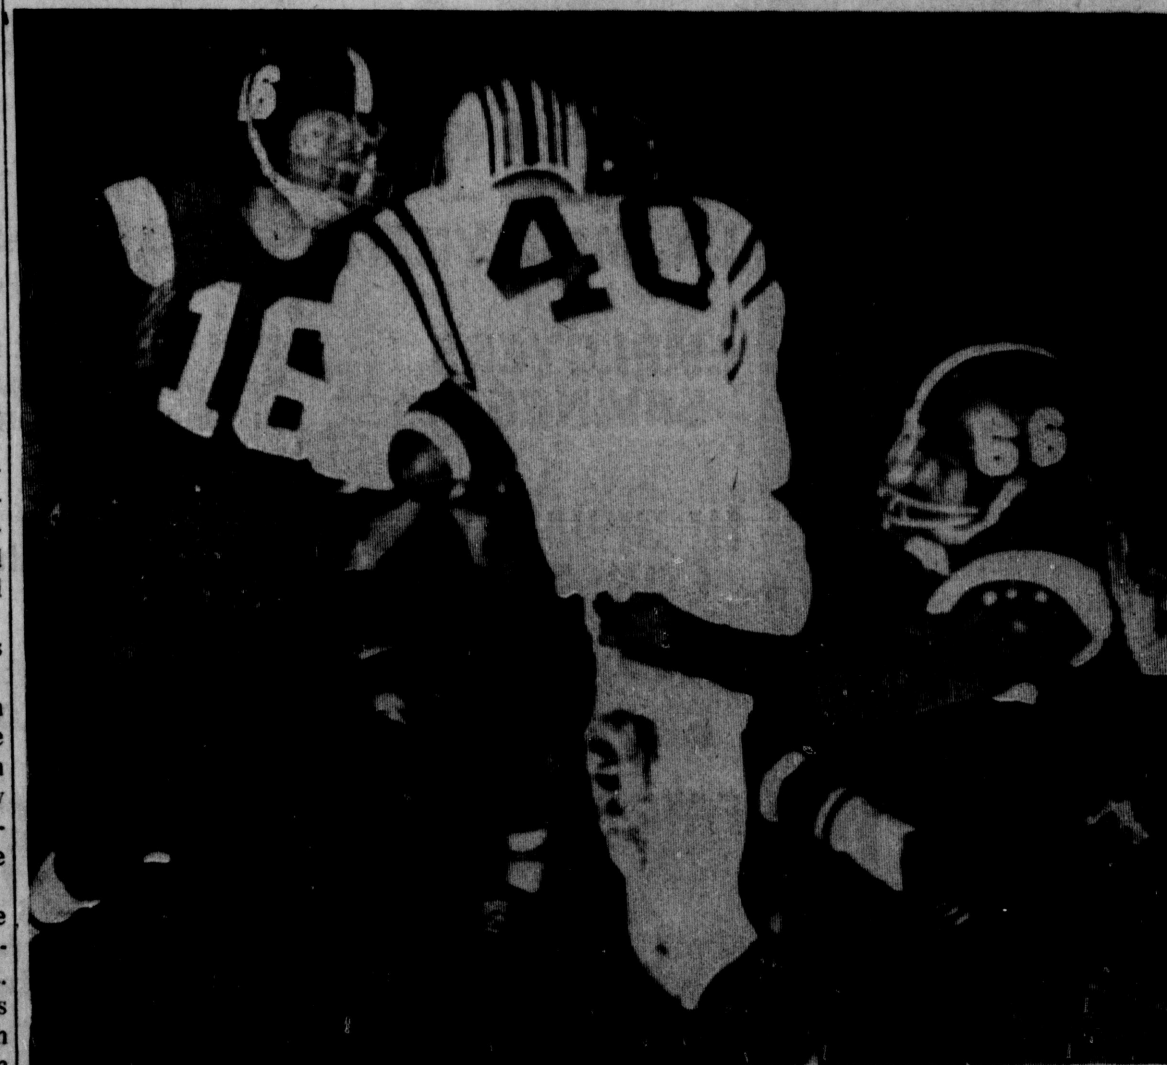

Fulton scored their lone six-pointer of the night in this second period, when Loren Sikke-ma hit paydirt from one yard away following a sustained Steamer drive.

Score at the intermission was 13-7 Newman.

Ed Fritts, and Tim McMullon scored on short runs for the Comets in the second half, with Papocchia teaming up with Terry Smoot for a seven-yard touchdown pass to complete the Blue and White scoring.

Next week the Comets will be playing their final Illowa Conference game against the St. Mary's of Clinton Irish, in hopes of completing another unbeaten and untied loop season. Fulton will be traveling to Eldridge, Iowa to meet the North Scott Lancers in hopes of ending their season on a happy note.

Score by quarters:

Trouble Comes In Threes
Jerry Wetter (40), Mount Morris ball carrier, is about to be dragged to the turf by three Oregon tacklers. Hawk players identifiable are Grover (66) and Buse (16), while a third member of the Oregon squad is directly behind Wetter. Gang-tackling on the part of the Hawk defense was quite obvious throughout the contest as they held the Mounders to seven points while scoring 27 themselves.

Miller, Welch, Coleman Score Two Touchdowns

By MEL JELLERICHS

The Dixon Dukes came alive here Friday night as they handed the Kewanee Boilers a 46-19 defeat, as Bill Miller, Roger Coleman and Mike Welch each scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the Purple and White scoring parade.

A wild second period, in which a total of 40 points was scored, was the highlight of the contest as both teams opened up their offensive forces and neither team could stop the other from scoring.

Dixon was on the move at the end of the first period, and when the gun sounded, the Purple and White were on the five-yard line of Kewanee. Roger Coleman took the hand-off to start the second quarter and blasted his way across the goal line from these five yards away for the first score of the night. The point after was good and Dixon led 7-0.

It took only two minutes for the Dukes to strike again, with Coleman again skirting the Kewanee end for a six pointer. Kewanee fumbled the kickoff following the first DHS score and Walter Wickens recovered the ball for Dixon on the 33-yard line. From here the Dukes marched the ball to the three-yard line, where Coleman on the same play on which he had scored the first touchdown bulled his way to the pay station for six more points. The extra point was good and Dixon led 14-0.

Kewanee moved the ball to midfield on their next series of downs before being forced to punt, giving the Dukes a first and 10 on their own 22-yard line. Following a first down on a series of line bucks by Miller and Coleman, Bill Miller blasted up the middle for 68 long yards and a third DHS score.

Miller gained 229 yards in the contest, many coming right through the center of the Kewanee line.

The point attempt was missed and the score was 20-0 with still more than six minutes of paying time remaining to be played in the first half.

Kewanee finally got their offense generating as they marched straight down the field following the ensuing kickoff, with Pat Miller grabbing an eight-yard scoring pass for the first Boiler TD of the night and once more, first in three games, as Kewanee had lost their last two ballgames 100-0, having been blanked by both Ottawa and LaSalle-Peru.

The point after attempt hit the cross bar and with 4:09 remaining on the A. C. Bowers Field clock, Dixon led 20-6.

Kewanee Strikes Back

Disaster nearly struck the Purple and White at this point in the game, as following the TD, Kewanee's defense held and forced Dixon to pass with a third down and long yardage situation. Quarterback Bob Johnson instead, fumbled the ball before he could get rid of it and a Kewanee lineman scooped up the loose pigskin and raced 30 yards into the end zone for the second Kewanee score in less than two minutes.

The point after attempt was good.

The Dukes began another march down field, this time fighting not only the defense of Kewanee, but the clock as well. Quarterback Jeff Schoaf finally spotted his wing-back Mike Welch open at the five-yard line and fired a strike to him. Welch then sidestepped a would-be Boiler tackler and went into the end zone for a six pointer. The point after was good.

Second Half

Kewanee kicked off to Dixon to start the second half of play, but the Dukes were unable to generate a scoring drive and were forced to punt the ball back to the Boilers.

Tim Whitehead got the Dixonites on the scoreboard first in the second half of play, as he intercepted a Kewanee pass and raced up the sidelines for 40 yards and a score to pad the Dixon lead still more.

The Baby Bull of the Dukes, Bill Miller, was not to be denied another score, as he banged his way to the pay station for a second touchdown, thus giving the Dukes another six points to their already comfortable lead.

Kewanee struck again in the final stanza of play as they managed to get their offense rolling toward Dukeland with short passes and crisp line blocking, which allowed them to make two and three yards a carry, up the middle, for first downs. Finally Corey Lay, rammed his way into the middle of the DHS line for a two-yard gain and a touchdown to give the Boilers their third touchdown. The point attempt was wide, making the score 40-19 in favor of the Purple and White-clad Dixon Dukes.

With time running out, and Coach Rich Lawton living up to his promise to the Dixon line-men that they would get the chance to carry the pigskin if the Dukes had an ample lead, several DHS liner en carried the ball and gained a pair of first downs.

Reserve quarterback Bill Love then lofted a pass to Mike Welch, who grabbed the pigskin and dipped into the end zone for a 37-yard touchdown pass, giving the Dixonites their final score of the contest.

The point-after attempt was wide and the final score of the ball game was 46-19 Dixon.

Next week the Dukes will be traveling to Rock Falls to meet the Rockets, who have lost two straight encounters, while Kewanee has the chore of facing the powerful Galesburg Silver Streaks in a non-conference affair.

Dixon ..... 0 27 0 19—46

Sophs Top Kewanee

The Dixon Dukelets regained their winning form Friday night, as they defeated the Kewanee Riveters 35-7 in their final home football game of the 1968 season.

Jansen scored the first DHS touchdown of the evening, as he found a big hole off tackle and raced 82 yards for a score in the opening minutes of the contest.

Moments later, a wayward Kewanee pass was intercepted by Gary Kopacz, who rambled 40-odd yards for the Dukelets' second score of the night. Both attempts for the point-after were good and the score was 14-0 at the end of the first period of play.

Dixon scored again in the second period, as Fran Fassler grabbed a 48-yard scoring aerial from Jack Vail, making the score 20-0. Again the point-after attempt was good and the score at the halftime intermission was 21-0 in favor of the local Purple and White-clad Dukelets.

The second half was much of the same for DHS fans, as the Dukelets scored early in the third period from one yard away, when Rod Russell bulled his way into the end zone.

This proved to be the only score of the third period, with the scoreboard showing the locals out in front by 28 points, 28-0.

The final period was a defensive battle, with neither team being able to score until there were only three minutes remaining in the quarter.

Kewanee finally tallied with 2:55 remaining on the clock, when Harvey scored on a short line plunge. The point-after attempt was good and the score was 28-7.

Dixon got back on the scoreboard one more time before the clock ran out, as Jansen swept right end for three yards and his second touchdown of the night with only 13 seconds remaining in the contest.

The run for the point-after was again good, making the final score 35-7 in favor of the Dukelets.

Oregon Hawks Stop Mounders

By ED BARTEL

MOUNT MORRIS — Oregon's Hawks put the damper on any hopes the hometown Mounders had of finishing in a first place tie in the North Blackhawk Conference here Friday night as Coach Pat Holland's charges won out 27-7.

The Hawks' win, coupled with Polo's victory over Prophetstown Thursday night and Erie's win last week, gives Oregon, Polo and Erie identical conference records of four wins and one loss. Mount Morris, who have now finished their season, wound up with a four and two mark in league play.

Mike Cox scored three of the Hawks' four touchdowns, on runs of seven, two and 44 yards respectively. Mark Tremble booted extra points after each. The other Oregon touchdown came on a pass from Tremble to Lewison. This time the PAT attempt was blocked.

The first quarter proved to be just what the game was billed as, a seesaw battle that should be close all the way. By the time the gun sounded at the end of the initial 12 minutes, neither team had managed to get on the scoreboard, although Oregon showed considerably more strength.

Mount Morris' downfall came in the second period, when Oregon put up a stingy defense and then displayed a hard-running offense every time they got their hands on the ball. It was during this second quarter that Cox scored his three touchdowns and Tremble added the extra points after each, making the halftime score Oregon 21, Mount Morris 0.

Despite the fact that they were down by 21 points and then had to kick off at the opening of the second half, the Mount Morris 11 never gave up. They forced Oregon to punt than then staged a determined offensive drive that netted them seven points. These came on a 34 yard run by Gary Messer and an extra point kicked by Hollar.

The Mounders were able to hold off the Hawks again and then moved the ball deep into Oregon territory again before the Hawks' defensive unit ran the Mount Morris offense out of downs near the Oregon 20-yard line.

Oregon has another "must" game next Friday night in the final weekend of conference play if they wish to remain in contention for the North Blackhawk title, as they host the Erie Cardinals. Since the teams are tied with Polo for the top spot this should be some game to see. Polo hosts Amboy in the Marcos' final bid of the 1968 season for the conference laurels.

AN ORDINANCE LICENSING AND REGULATING REAL ESTATE BROKERS AND REAL ESTATE SALESMEN AND TO PROHIBIT UNFAIR REAL ESTATE PRACTICES IN THE CITY OF DIXON, ILLINOIS

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States of America has declared and established that all persons are entitled to the equal protection of the laws; and

WHEREAS, the Congress of the United States of America and the General Assembly of the State of Illinois have enacted laws furthering, nurturing, strengthening and encouraging the equal protection of all people by such laws and have given authority to the several legislative bodies of the different municipalities within the State to enact ordinances conforming to said laws; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary to the general health, safety and welfare of the people of the City of Dixon and to the orderly and vital growth and development thereof to defeat and suppress discrimination and segregation based upon race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry; and

WHEREAS, the right to freely own and to freely purchase, sell, occupy, exchange and otherwise deal with land and property is a signal and essential right of the people and an integral part of the freedom and liberty thereof entitled to the highest protection of the laws;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF DIXON, ILLINOIS, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. CHAPTER 1 - REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Section 10. Declaration of Policy.

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the City of Dixon in the exercise of its police power for the protection of the public safety, public health, public morals, and its power to license and regulate brokers and salesmen for the maintenance of business and good government and for the promotion of the city's trade, commerce and manufacturers to assure equal opportunity to all persons to live in decent housing facilities regardless of race, color, religion, ancestry of national origin, and to that end to prohibit discrimination in housing and in real estate transactions.

Section 11. Definitions.

As used in this Ordinance, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The term real estate includes any building, structure or portion thereof in the City of Dixon which is used or occupied as a home, residence, sleeping place of one or more persons, place of business or office, but such term shall not include rooms for rental to one or two persons in a single-family dwelling, the remainder of which is occupied by (1) the owner or members of his immediate family, or (2) the lessee of the entire dwelling or members of his immediate family.

(b) The term unfair housing practice includes any difference in treatment in the sale, lease, rental or financing of housing accommodations because of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin.

(c) The term real estate broker or real estate salesman means any natural person, partnership, association or corporation, who for a fee or other valuable consideration sells, purchases, exchanges, rents (or offers or negotiates to do any of the foregoing) real property of another, or holds himself out as engaged in the business of doing any of the foregoing, or manages and collects rental from the real property of another.

Section 12. Licenses.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to act as a real estate broker or real estate salesman in this City without obtaining a license to do so. A license may be issued to an association, co-partnership or corporation only if all members, officers and salesmen of such association, co-partnership or corporation who actively participate in the brokerage business of such association, co-partnership or corporation are duly licensed as real estate brokers and/or real estate salesmen.

(b) Application for a license and a renewal of a license shall be filed with the City Clerk upon forms supplied by him and containing: the name, residence, address, business address, date of birth, length of experience in dealing in real estate, the date and number of applicant's current certificate of registration from the State of Illinois, and such other pertinent information as the Council may require to carry out the intent and purposes of this Ordinance. If the applicant is not registered with the State of Illinois, the application shall be accompanied with a statement by the applicant under oath, that the applicant is not required to be registered by the State of Illinois.

(c) All initial applications for licenses thereof shall be referred to the City Council. If the City Council finds that the applicant has complied with all the provisions of this Ordinance, it shall approve the application and a license shall be issued to the applicant. A license or renewal thereof may be refused by the Council for any violation of this Ordinance or for any causes set forth in Ill. Rev. Stat. Ch. 114 1/2 Sec. 8 as the same now are or may hereafter be amended. All renewals shall be referred to the City Clerk, who may renew same or may refer the matter to the City Council.

(d) In the event any license or renewal of license is refused and a hearing has not already been granted, the applicant may, by filing a request with the City Clerk within Twenty (20) days of the date of such refusal, have the matter of such refusal heard by a designated committee of the City Council, or some board or commission designated for such purpose by the Council. If such hearing is before the Council it shall make its determination by adopting an appropriate Committee Report. If such hearing is before a board or commission designated by the Council, such board or commission shall hear the testimony of sworn witnesses and such other evidence as may be produced and shall prepare findings of fact which shall be submitted to the Council along with a recommendation. The Council shall make its determination by adopting an appropriate resolution or Committee Report. During the pendency of such proceeding and until final determination, no license shall be withheld.

(e) Licenses issued hereunder shall be for the period November 1, 1968, to April 30, 1969, and shall be renewable annually thereafter. The annual fee for any license or renewal of license for a real estate broker shall be $10.00, which fee shall accompany the application for issuance or renewal of license, and the annual fee for any license or renewal of license for a real estate salesman shall be $5.00, which fee shall accompany the application for issuance or renewal of a license.

#201—MOTHER AND CHILD

by Gari Melchers (1860-1932)

One of America's most famous painters, Melchers used mainly values of brown for this quiet, Madonna-like portrait created in 1906. You can own this amazing reproduction on canvas in Brushstroke Dimension.

#204—THE HERRING NET

Winslow Homer (1836-1910)

A scene of exceptional realism by this American Master painted at Prout's Neck, 10 miles from Portland, Maine. Most famous for his nautical subjects, Winslow Homer caught the quality of hazy afternoon light at sea with the use of unconventional colors. The violence of waves and the glittering catch illustrate his talent for representing great detail with a minimum of brush strokes.

#205—ON THE TERRACE

by Pierre Auguste Renoir (1841-1919)

This world-famous canvas is an outstanding example of Renoir's impressionistic technique. You can own this beautiful reproduction on canvas in Brushstroke Dimension.
